

Position Title: DHCC ASL Instructor

Starting Pay: $30/hr

Primarily in-person classes

The Deaf-Hearing Communication Centre is a regional not-for-profit organization dedicated to promoting communication accessibility, equality, and cultural awareness to the Deaf, hard of hearing, DeafBlind, and hearing communities.

Overview: To hire an American Sign Language (ASL) instructor who can teach in-person community ASL classes in the greater Philadelphia region in Fall 2024, Winter 2025, and beyond. This is a contract position. The possible in-person locations are in Philadelphia (North Philly, South Philly, and Mt. Airy); Ardmore; North Wales; Kennett Square; Swarthmore; and Newtown, PA.

Job Responsibilities:

- Teaches assigned American Sign Language courses.
- Prepare materials for each class, such as a syllabus / lesson plan and handouts.
- Facilitate classroom instruction on topics such as Deaf culture and ASL grammar, vocabulary, and more.
- Promote Deaf/Hard-of-Hearing cultural competency among students.
- Maintain consistent communication with students and supervisors by sharing class materials and answering emails.
- Participate in instructor training, workshops, meetings, and more.
- Performs other related duties as assigned.

Job Qualifications:

- Native fluency in American Sign Language and close familiarity with Deaf culture and history.
- Must be able to provide/secure clearances for Child Abuse, Criminal Background, FBI fingerprints, etc.
- Ability to work with diverse groups of students with different learning needs.
- Previous teaching experience preferred.

To apply, please submit a cover letter and resume to asl@dhcc.org.